

Dear Swissliver colleagues,

We are pleased to announce the 8th HEP-Preceptorship that will take place in Lugano from Friday to Saturday 19th-20th of May 2022.

This clinical course will focus on the current and future challenges in the management of patients with chronic liver diseases and is addressed to fellows and trainees in hepatology and general internal medicine.

The presentations will be as informal as possible and a lot of time will be allocated for discussions about several topics and clinical cases.

Physicians from Switzerland and all over Europe have been part of our past Preceptorships. We expect this year approximately 40 participants. A request for the accreditation for CMEs of SGG and SGAIM is ongoing.

An unrestricted grant from Gilead and Co-Sponsorings from other companies (Abbvie, Intercept, Ideogen, Dr. Falk, MediService, Provas) will cover the costs for the course, meals and coffee breaks.

You are warmly invited to register until Friday 15th of April 2022.

We will strictly follow the COVID-19 safety restrictions.

Please find the final Program and the registration form on our website:

We are looking forward to seeing you in Lugano!

Please contact Bettina Endres (bettina@endresprojects.ch) for any further questions.
